

Major Concurrent 1: Financing and investing in new housing supply

Carolyn Viney

Super Housing Partnerships

It takes a village to raise a village

If Australian BTR sector grows in line with USA and UK institutional investment in housing it can deliver 2 million new homes

Australia's housing crisis is a complex and multifaceted problem

Solving it will require a variety of solutions

MORE IS MORE RIGHT NOW!

We need to leverage all parts of the existing housing ecosystem to deliver LOTS of new homes, at scale and at pace in a way we have never done before

We will need to do MORE of what we have done historically – Build to Sell, Government funded Social Housing and Affordable Housing

We will need to do MORE of what we have not done before or done only recently – Build to Rent and privately funded Social Housing and Affordable Housing

We will need MORE innovation and openness to innovating

We will need MORE partnerships and collaboration

We will need MORE market participants including institutional investors
.....like Australia's Superannuation Funds
